Working as Professor of Economics from August 2nd 2010, DOS in Economics and Cooperation, University of Mysore, Mysuru. Teaching Post graduate students in economics and guiding the Ph.D. students and carrying independent research in the department in addition to meeting the demands from various universities in the state and outside.

- i. Associate Professor: Worked as Associate Professor in Economics in the Department of Studies in Economics and Cooperation, University of Mysore, Mysuru. Taught Post Graduate students, guided their research activities and carried out research independently in the broad area of Development Studies and Economics.
- ii. Special Officer: Worked as Special Officer in the Ph.D. and Convocation Sections of the University for about three and half years. The No. of Ph.Ds increased from 178 to 365 in the university. This I made possible due to quick disposal of files and paper movement.
- iii. Reader: Worked as a Reader in the Institute of Development Studies, University of Mysore, Mysore. Teaching Post Graduate students in Development Studies, guiding their research activities and carrying out research independently in the broad area of Development Studies were the major responsibilities.
- iv. Assistant Professor: Worked as an Assistant Professor in the Economics Unit (August 2002) at Institute for Social and Economic Change (ISEC), Bangalore. I have worked in about ten projects and published quite a good number of research papers in various journals. Very recently I have completed two projects entitled “Rural Local Organisations in the Development of Watershed” in two States, viz., Karnataka and Uttaranchal (Funded by the World Bank) and “The Patterns and Determinants of Rural Non-Farm Employment in Karnataka State” (Funded by the Ministry of Agriculture, GOI).
- v. Assistant Director (equivalent to Assistant Professor) in the project entitled `Power, Patronage and Accountability of Panchayat Raj Institutions' funded by the Ford Foundation from 02/06/99 to 31/05/2001 (two years). Training Field Staff, selection of the study area and sample respondents, data analysis and report writing are the major assignments in addition to administrative responsibilities.

- vi. Assistant Director (equivalent to Assistant Professor) in the project entitled 'Health and Sericulture' funded by the Swiss Development Cooperation from 17/11/97 to 16/11/98 (one year). Training Field Staff, selection of the study area and sample, data analysis and report writing are the major assignments in addition to administrative responsibilities.
- vii. Technical Assistant (on regular basis) in the Economics Unit at ISEC, Bangalore, (September 1995). I was engaged in the unit work i.e., supporting the faculty in the preparation of reading material, completing unit projects and also engaged in other research related works.
- viii. Research Analyst (on contract basis) in the ADRT Unit at ISEC, Bangalore, 10.10.94 to 9.9.95 (11 months). I was engaged in a project entitled "Agro-Climatic Regional Planning" funded by the Ministry of Agriculture, Government of India. The main task was to prepare the background material for the two workshops held at Shimoga and Tumkur districts (Karnataka) on 'Institutionalization of Agro-Climatic Regional Planning in Karnataka'.
- ix. Business Correspondent: Worked as Business Correspondent for the daily news paper 'The Economic Times', Bangalore, 13.6.94 to 8.10.94 (4 months). Writing commodity features was the major assignment.
- x. Research Assistant in the Project entitled 'Beneficiary Assessment of National Sericulture Project at ISEC, Bangalore, 23.11.89 to 10.6.94 (4.5 Years). The Project was funded by the World Bank and the Swiss Development Co-operation through the Central Silk Board. About 50 per cent of the research time was spent in study areas, normally villages, as part of the participant observation method of research. The nature of the work was collection and analysis of the data and report writing.
- xi. Lecturer (on contract basis) in Economics at Sri Panchajanya Vidya Peetha, Bangalore, 3.9.88 to 22.11.89 (1.2 years). Subjects taught: 1) Fundamentals of Economics and 2) Indian Economy to the Pre-university Students.
