BACKGROUND

Research is an essential and powerful tool leading man towards progress. Without systematic research there would have been very little progress. John W. Best has rightly said “The secret of our cultural development has been research, pushing back the areas of ignorance by discovering new truths, which in turn, lead to better ways of doing things and better products. Scientific research leads to progress in some field of life. New products, new facts, new concepts and new ways of doing 2 things are being found due to ever increasing significant research in the physical, the biological, the social and the psychological fields. Research today is no longer confined to the science laboratory. The manufacturers, the agricultural experts and the archeologists are carrying on research in their respective spheres, besides, the sociologists, anthropologists, economists and educationists.

Proposal writing: It is found lack knowledge among teachers for applying for the grants there is need to create awareness about various funding opportunities. A proposal is an necessary marketing document that helps cultivate an initial professional relationship between an institute and a donor over a project to be implemented. The proposal outlines the plan of the implementing organization about the project, giving extensive information about the intention, for implementing it, the ways to manage it and the results to be delivered from it. However, the project idea faces a considerable challenge when it has to be presented in a framework. The proposal has a framework that establishes ideas formally for a clear understanding of the project for the donor. Besides, unless the ideas are not documented in writing, they do not exist. Hence, a proposal facilitates appropriate words for the conception of an idea. (from various sources). Funding agencies: Funding agencies are Govt. or Non-govt. body providing monitory grants for scientific research Areas-Science and Technology, Social sciences, etc. In India various funding agencies are available which provide grants for a research in a various field. These agencies conduct research schemes to promote the research in India in social science and/or medical stream and provide a grant for research. Here potential research projects are evaluated and only the most promising receive funding. Such processes, which are run by government, corporations or foundations, allocate scarce funds. Most research funding comes from two major sources, corporations and government (primarily carried out through universities and specialized government bodies.
